Foreword

Nineteen Thirty-nine, Nineteen Forty — a BUILDING TIME at Alabama College . . . Architects poring over blue-prints, the sound of hammer and nail, steel structures rising above the masonry and groundwork. Out of the din of rattling wheelbarrows, the heavy beat, beat, beat of the hammers, the heaving "unh" of laborers shoveling dirt and hoisting beams has risen the new dormitory between Hanson and Ramsay, the new classroom building up toward the President's House just beyond Bloch Hall—and the College Union Building from the skeleton of Reynolds Hall. In step with the riveters' rhythm, to the tune of workmen's songs, with the thudding of carpenters' hammers, the Building Program has gone on. Bricks, mortar, wood, and steel cast into shape and heaved into place by the deftness of trained workmen, until at last they are finished—our new Classroom Building, College Union Building, and Senior Dormitory—buildings that send shivers of excited pleasure through us and give to our College Life a new meaning—a renewed enthusiasm created by the enlarged college program and increased number of campus activities.

To

and

MRS. THOMAS HEWELL NAPIER

Two gracious and altogether lovely Southern women who have won the heart of every Alabama College girl. They embody the charm and grace to which we all aspire. In years to come when other memories fade we shall not forget the warm welcome which we have found on Flower Hill and in the friendly atmosphere of the Napiers' home at our campus gates.

Dedication

MRS. ARTHUR FORT HARMAN

His Excellency

FRANK M. DIXON

To the citizens of our state who serve on the Board of Trustees for the College we express sincere appreciation and gratitude for the work they have done both individually and as a body to promote the building program of which we are so proud.

DR. A. F. HARMAN,
President

Although of courtly mien, our President is a most democratic executive, always courteous and friendly and ready to help with whatever activity we undertake. This year, in brick and cement and steel we are seeing the realization of some of his plans for a greater Alabama College.

DR. T. H. NAPIER, Dean

Dean Napier—a combination of sweetness and strength for which we respect and love him—the one to whom we can confide our problems and know that they will be treated with sympathetic understanding.

MR. E. H. WILLS, Registrar and Business Manager

Alarmingly accurate and efficient, Mr. Wills manages our finances with the tact and calm of a true diplomat, and through it all moves with a quiet twinkle in his eyes is if he were rather enjoying every bit of it.

REYNOLDS HALL—transformed by our building program into a College Union Building with a room for the Alabamian and one for the Technala and Tower, kitchens, a luxurious men's lounge, date parlors, club rooms, and Reynolds Theatre. Here at 11:00 and at 2:30 hopeful souls come to wait for Miss Leeper to put up the mail or to sell them a stamp, a book, a map of the United States, or what have you—then on to the red-and-blue-leather furnished tea-room to enjoy a bit of gossip and a snack.

The Activities

Student GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

Student Government, under the leadership of Celia Methvin, and working through the Executive Board, has realized great successes during the 1939-40 school year. The way in which the board cooperates to enforce positively yet unobtrusively the laws the student body makes is proof of its efficiency. An old belief that "the government that governs least governs best" is exemplified by the work of the Executive Board.

The student body elects representatives from each class and they with the house presidents from the dormitories and the cooperative houses comprise the "Honor Board."

Social activities on the campus are well taken care of by the Executive Board. On this year's social calendar there are dates for the annual Student Government Reception, the dinner for the Faculty Advisars, the Christmas party for hall chairmen and fire chiefs, and College Night.

GOLDS make history! Majestic strains of the organ. Choir bays walking slowly down the aisles. Beggars, the wealthy and nuns kneeling before the life-size statue of the Virgin Mary—The Golds were giving us their Impersonation, "The Miracle." Their ultra-classical arrangement af "Afternoon of a Faun" was done by Faye Prater. The stunt took us into a caurt of casmetics on an "Evening in Paris." Richard Hudnut, brondishing his sword (a hair pin), brings "The Make-up Duel" to its climax and claims the Princess Pat. That contra contrapuntal affair was the Pep song—a Solomon Levi—Spanish Cavalier turned into a Gold-Purple ditty.

The Golds were declared winners—the first time in College Night history that the same side has won for three successive years!

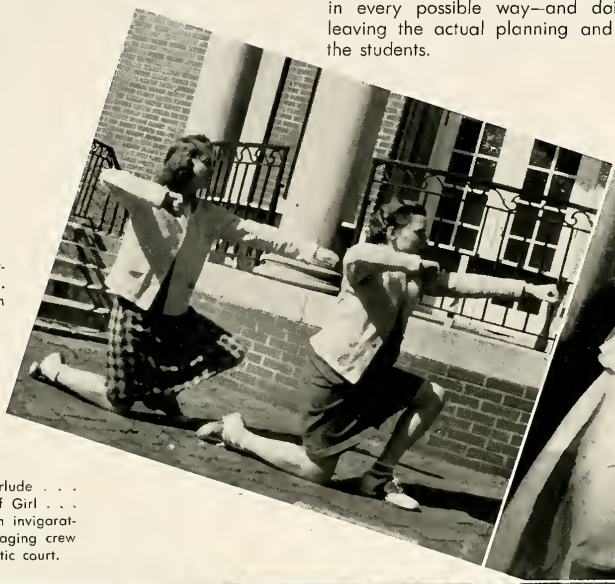
COLLEGE NIGHT—the climax of the year's work—when the entire Student Body competes while the faculty members sit on the sidelines ready to assist in every possible way—and doing just that still leaving the actual planning and final decisions to the students.



Willie and Naomi, Gold Cheerleaders, and good ones! . . . Maama Moore as the Virgin in "The Miracle".

The Dance Group in the interlude . . . Lady Puff and the Powder Puff Girl . . . Sir Fitch gives Lucien Lelong an invigorating shampoo . . . The Gold staging crew gets hilarious over the cosmetic court.

Pratt and Canan, Leader and Assistant. Amand Palmer, Business Manager of Purple finances.

The PUR

With Purple Pep, Pratt and Canon kept in step and the whole Purple crew chimed in. They topped off a swingy pep song and a slow song done in the Fred Waring style with an impersonation of "The Eve of St. John" and a stunt that gave the Galds many a quake and qualm, and made a decision against the Purples almost impossible. The stunt included no lesser lights than Hitler, Mussolini, Stalin—and the Devil who showed us how the world got in the fix it's in but how the problems were solved by a visit from President Roosevelt of the U. S. A.

Ladies in waiting discuss the tryst which their Lady Lenora keeps with Sir Richard while the Baron of Smoyllho'me is away at battle.

Sir Richard places the curse upon Lady Lenora on "The Eve of St. John" . . . Those balloons the circus mon has represent countries in Europe, and the small boy, Hitler, screams because he can't have everyone of them . . . Mahatma Gandhi brings his knitting to the "Satanic Satire" and sits . . . The Purple staging crew designs a world on canvas.

The STUDENT

The Student Senate is composed of representatives from the four classes selected from those students who have made at least a "B" average during the semester preceding Spring Elections. The Senate has for its ideals better scholarship, leadership, and conduct on the campus. Students are motivated through the duties given them as Senate members to make the most of their talent and to participate in extra-curricular activities.

With Bettie Archibald as leader of the Senate, the meetings have taken on a dignity and efficiency that has characterized the quality of work done by the organization throughout the year.

SENATE and MAY DAY

May Day 1939, a grand and glorious sunshiny day for the first time in years, was held outdoors on the athletic field. Old Greece came back to life as the God and Goddess of the day were heralded to their throne on Mount Olympus. The Queen of May, Aphrodite, Marinelle Oliver, and her escort Pallas-Athene, Kathleen Williams, beckoned their maidens, the honor group and the attendants, to come and grace their court. For their amusement bare-foot nymphs danced around the Maypole on the green and the Dance Group gave a rhythmic interpretation of the spirit of the day.

May Queen and Best Citizen, Marinelle Oliver and Kathleen Williams . . . Mr. Kildea directs the orchestra as the processional begins . . . Maypole dancers disentangle . . . YOUNG WOMEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

The Young Women's Christion Association is the lorgest Christion organization on the campus, its membership being composed of all students. As comprehensive as its membership is its purpose which is to make a full and creative life possible for all students.

Mildred Clotfelter in her cheerful and energetic manner hos given her best efforts toward making the "Y" o beneficial organization.

The Sismajor-Sisminor party is the first event on the social program, and it is followed at other intervals during the year by socials for the entire student body.

All during the year the "Y" is kept busily engoged in helping the needy in surrounding communities, and in providing octivities to give students more abundant life. The Vesper Service held each Sunday afternoon in Polmer Hall offers an opportunity for quiet meditation.

Religious Emphosis Week, the red letter week of the year for the Y. W. C. A., brought Dr. R. B. Thompson of Oklohomo who gave new lines of religious thought to the student body. Mrs. Mildred Morgan, onother outstanding speaker brought to our compus by the "Y" this year, contributed to the students' understanding of boy-and-girl relationships.

Christmas time brings on more octivities for the "Y." The front campus Christmas tree and the Servonts' party arouse the Christmas spirit in all of us.

The teo-room, under the monagement of Jerrene Lucas, is the place for that between-meal snack, ond it is also the source of a scholarship fund. Kapsoon Kim, the Korean student, receives this fund which hos enobled her to attend Alobomo College during the past two yeors.

The Religious Council which includes o representative from each denominotion has continued its work this yeor os o coordinator of oll religious groups.

The Religious Council, the coordinating body, of various religious groups on the campus—Elsie Erle Hagood, Social Chairman. Kapsaan Kim, Korean student, always smiling and always happy . . . Dr. Decker, one of the many excellent speakers for Vespers . . . Mrs. Morgan with Jerrene Lucas, Florence Pennington, Ida Moore, and Vandalyn Lazenby, members of the "Y" Cabinet . . . Gregg Allen, Sis-major-Sis-minor Chairman, helps her own sis-minor, Jean Wilson, off to a good start.

Mr. E. H. Wills, our Financial Advisor, a person we always feel free to call on when any trouble comes up—when we need a few extra pages in the Technala, a little more money to tide the budget over, or a bit of moral support—our Financial Advisor "wills" it right.

Mr. Shelby E. Southard, Literary Advisor, and more than his title implies. He's always ready to champion our cause, to give helpful suggestions and to encourage our efforts even though we fail to measure up.

Mr. Wills

Mr. Southard

Board of PUBLICATIONS

Under the direction of the Student Publications Board, composed of representatives from each of the four classes, the three publications of the campus, the Technala, the Alabamian, and the Tower, are organized. Through the capable leadership of the president, Amand Palmer, and with the aid of Mr. Wills as financial advisor and Mr. Southard as literary adviser, this campus group is directing work toward better publications on the campus. The Board's revision of the payment for organization pages in the Technala, and efforts to obtain increased allocations have made the work less troublesome and should result in publications of better quality. As a major organization the Publications Board has great possibilities and it appears to be well on its way toward developing them.

An editorial comment, a lithographed cover, glossy enamel paper, and hand-set titles distinguish the 1940 TOWER from those of former years. To create a TOWER of usefulness and beauty has been the aim of the staff of the Alabama College literary publication. In order to present the abstractly beautiful and basically functional in our campus life, the staff has diverged from the purely literary and ventured to use material of a controversial nature concerned with vital issues in our present-day society. This year for the first time, the publication has included group work in the form of a poem entitled "Theorem 1940: What is vital?" written by eight girls. Material is accepted not only from members of the TOWER staff, but from any student who does creative writing.

With Madie Belle Ward as Editor and Mary Sterne as her right-hand man, the TOWER has been greatly improved in the quality and type of material selected for publication.

BAMIAN . .

With Frances Scarbrough as editor, Mary Jo Roney as business monager, and a staff of alert, zealous members, the Alabamian looks back on o year full of successes, sprinkled with some disappointment.

Numerous high points of interest during the year have "singled out" the 1939-40 Alabamian —the first eight-page issue in the newspaper's history; a special College Night edition, bringing together all the traditions and outstanding campus events and setting them down in writing; the elimination of sloving into the wee small hours; and countless minor things. All efforts and energies hove been expended toward the dream of every editor, the inspiration of every staff—on All American rating.

The Alabamian is published bi-monthly entirely through student thought and work. It oims to present to parents, friends, and colleges major campus events, student activities, and outstanding faculty happenings connected with the college and students.

The staff offers a challenge to Alabamian staffs of later years—that they live up to former standords and strive for higher goals.

The TECH

Birdie and Ellen, Editor and Business Manager

A year in review—a photographic panorama of life as it proceeds at Alabama College. From Orientation to Cammencement, from Administrative Officers ta servants, fram the trivial to the colossal—an effort to present a pictorial and factual account of campus personalities and events that influence and guide our lives.

With zealous willingness the staff members have combed the campus seeking information, collecting pictures, and with untiring patience Tittle and Lilly have met groups (that weren't there) chased faculty members and covered all campus activity in an effort to get photographic copy that was good—and they did! They succeeded—with few exceptions—in getting pictures of all faculty members and the officers of all the organizations on the campus.

It is only through the work and loyalty of an energetic staff that the Technala of 1940 comes to you. Every member has given her time and her best effort without murmur or dissent. We leave with the hape that thase who follow us may profit by our mistakes and achieve the gools that we have missed.

Sykes hands out slips

The excitement of ELITE NIGHT first began when Maltby Sykes, the young portrait painter from Birmingham, came to visit our campus to choose the best looking ones of us to appear in the performance on November 8. For two days, the quiet and concentration of classrooms, the gaiety of the dining rooms, and the activities of physical education classes were mercilessly interrupted by the intrusion of Mr. Sykes who scrutinized the group and to some unsuspecting blonde, brunette, or red-head handed a challenging little note with the message as shown to the left.

An atmosphere of curiosity, anxiety, and expectation enveloped the campus and mirrors were worked over time. From the seventy-five girls chosen, twenty lucky ones were selected to appear for the final vote of the Student Body in Elite Night on November 8, with the candidates for Actress, Artist, Athlete, Executive, Hostess, Musician, Scientist, Miss Alabama College, and Writer.

Presents ELITE NIGHT

The Beauties were arranged according to coloring and type so as to depict the beauty of dawn, noonday, twilight, and night. To the soft strains of organ music, the speech chorus under direction of Miss Ellen Haven Gould read selections of poetry indicating the beauty of the various hours of the day as revealed in the girls. In an atmosphere of soft loveliness the girls appeared on a slowly revolving disc and descended the steps to take their position on the stage.

The selections of poetry include British and American verse, adapted and arranged by Madie Belle Ward.

The Beauties as they appeared in the Elite Night program

Helen Rockwell

We think of your face when in pallid dawn
Glimmers day's loveliest and clearest star,
Infinitely in the pale blue withdrawn,
Touching our hearts with beauty from afar.

Beauty's challenge like clear trumpets of warning
Blown from some throne with royal splendor,
Summons our praise—The eloquent and tender
Lines of her grace unfold like the morning.

Margaret Reddoch

Frances McCoy

I wonder no more where noon bestows,
When the hour is past, that fading rose;
For in your beauty, orient deep,
These flowers like soft petals, sleep.

Your face's beauty—which, even as a flower
That on the night-wind spreads her soft perfume
Across the chalice of her beauty's bloom,
Blends with the richest charm of twilight hour.

Vandalyn Lazenby

Mary Diamond

Fair she is and full of fleetness,
Like a flash of summer lightning
Beautiful and swift and bright,
Hers is day, not starless night.

You are the full, cold, cloud-dividing beauty
Of the August moon.
The moon in the warm blue violet depths
Between snow cliffs of cloud.

The coordinating body of extra-curricular activities on the campus is the President's Council. This organization is made up of the presidents of all college organizations, with the president of the college as an ex-officio member. Through their work in making out schedules of organization meetings, emphasizing the activity point system, and keeping check on the progress of individual groups within the organization, they have made the extra-curricular work on this campus a vital part of the lives of the students.

The Council, under the competent leadership of Jean Letson, has succeeded in making many needed changes and adjustments in the routine of extra-curricular activities. In November the council joined with the other major organizations in bringing Mrs. Mildred Morgan to the campus. At Thanksgiving and at Christmas the prexies assisted Miss Irvin by furnishing entertainment and decorations for the annual dinners. They introduced a new method of filling out activity point blanks and approved constitutions for two new organizations: Beta Beta Beta, honorary fraternity in Biology and Retail Club for majors in Retail Home Economics. The climax of the year's activity was the establishment of a Senior Women's Honorary Organization which in five years will apply for admittance into the National Chapter of Mortar Board.

ALABAMA PLAYERS

Alabama Players is an honorary dramatic organization in which membership is based on achievement through participation in dramatic production. Membership progresses through three steps indicated as circles. The first circle requires eight points to be made in two fields of activity relative to dramatic production. The second circle may be acquired through achievement of fourteen points in three fields of activity. The highest circle, or full membership, may be secured by achievement of twenty points in four fields of activity.

This year the Alabama Players' production was Thornton Wilder's "Our Town," the first and only college production having male members in the cast and the only play of the year booked for a two-night run.

DANCE GROUP

The Dance Group was organized to create an interest in modern dance on Alabama College campus and to provide a medium of expression for persons interested in the dance. Through the years interest in the dance has spread among the students until now it holds an undisputed place in our campus life.

The year 1939-40 has been a particularly active one for the Dance Group. On December 8, under the direction of Miss Mildred Caldwell, the Group presented its recital program "The Christmas Story," a story of the Nativity told through the medium of dance pantomime

A selected number of members from the Group participated in the Gold Impersonation during College Night. Choreography for this number, "Interlude," was by Elenora Stier.

In collaboration with dance groups from the other colleges in the State the Alabama College Dance Group participated in an Indian Festival at Oak Mountain Park on the evening of March 28. The program was presented under the auspices of the Physical Education Department.

COMER HALL — commodious, convenient, and satisfying, with thoroughly modern, up-to-date broadcasting studios for the new radio classes. Comer is the home of history, English, the languages, secretarial science, mathematics, and speech.

Here, day after day, wits clash. Beneath the strain of term papers, week-end papers, and the fear of daily quizzes, poor "studes" search desperately for an answer that may be nearly right.

The Classes

In RETROSPECT

Seniors in their caps and gowns marching to the Founders' Day convocation—an imposing and impressive picture. For Seniors this day marks the beginning of the end—the end of four years filled with memories pleasant and unpleasant—picnics at the camphouse, delightful midnight feasts, week-end dances in the gym—together with the homesickness of the first months in Main Dormitory, the tired aching feet of Orientation Week, the eager anticipation of every holiday season, the quakes and fears of exam time, excitement and furor of College Night, and the yearning for summer vacations that may bring a new romance—a new lease on life—and finally a readiness to come back to all of it in the Fall.

The SENIOR CLASS

It is appropriate that we have as our Seniors the class of 1940. In their own way they have became builders. Seeing the need of a change, of carrying out old procedures in new ways, these innovating seniors have suggested to their fellow students the necessity of seeking novelty in expression of life experiences on our campus.

As Juniors they gave "sense of humor" such a humorous twist that the Seniors heaved sighs comparable to the power plant's whistle. As Seniors they have held high the standards of loyalty and devotion and have been true to the ideals which Alabama College fosters.

Each field in which they have worked shows an imprint of quality which can be furthered by the classes to come if those classes strive as the Class of '40 has—to seek life and to enrich life.

The JUNIOR CLASS

"Oh, mama," the twice-deserted Junior Class has cried this year since Miss Golson, the maternal advisor, left them for a year of study and Mrs. Bruce had the ill luck to try sailing home on the Athenia. But in spite of this handicap, the Juniors have been right on their toes. Witness the camp picnic for the Freshmen, their "Winter Wonderland" dance, for which real snow and ice conveniently furnished a background, and the Junior-Senior Banquet. Add to this the class gift, which we hear will be connected with one of the new buildings, and the traditional record of individual members' work in all campus activity, and the result is a year of real accomplishment.

By now most of the Class of '42 know what they want to do and are energetically working towards the goals they have set for themselves. The number of Sophomores in honor societies shows that their efforts have not gone unrewarded.

The Sophomores have distinguished themselves by their participation in various extra-curricular activities—dramatics, debating, sports, and music. The most outstanding social event of this season for the Sophs, at least, was the Sophomore Hop in which they caught a bit of the "Gone With the Wind" fever and used the Old South as a background.

Their new campus address, now that the ordeal of moving is past, is Ramsay Hall—the former Senior dormitory.

Ramsay Hall—Once the haven of Seniors and the goal of every under-classmon—now, the domain of the up-and-coming Sophs who took over when the Seniors moved to Tutwiler.

The FRESHMAN CLASS

The Freshman class had the advantage over the rest of the classes to start with—they had more students than any of the others. And they took advantage of their numbers too; first, they displayed their dramatic ability in the Freshman play "Fresh Fields," the first up-to-date comedy of the season, and they continued to make history by taking leading parts in other college plays and in College Night. Some of the most outstanding debaters on the campus are Freshmen. The class points with pride to the number who have made varsity sports teams and, of course, they are doubly proud of their seven beauties. The class as a whole is very energetic, responsive, and active, and if its members continue to forge ahead as they have during their first year on the campus, they'll make a name for themselves and do great things for the College.

Alabama College's Famous KING HOUSE

King House is part of our genuine tradition. It was the first building in Alabama to have glass windows and the first in this section of the state to be made of brick. Although the building was recently renovated to house the Psychology Staff and the Student Counselor, rumor has it that a ghost lives on. Some whisper of trap doors, secret stoirways, and strange lights late at night. The air of mystery is heightened by the little cemetery in the cedar grove nearby.

Aristocratic in its very simplicity, King House holds its own with our newest buildings. It is more than a structure of wood and stone. Into its walls have gone the enduring creation of idea and tradition. Its is the living spirit of two centuries.

THIRD BOOK

Alabama College's Famous KING HOUSE

King House is part of our genuine tradition. It was the first building in Alabama to have glass windows and the first in this section of the state to be made of brick. Although the building was recently renovated to house the Psychology Staff and the Student Counselor, rumor has it that a ghost lives on. Some whisper of trap doors, secret stairways, and strange lights late at night. The air of mystery is heightened by the little cemetery in the cedar grove nearby.

Aristocratic in its very simplicity, King House holds its own with our newest buildings. It is more than a structure of wood and stone. Into its walls have gone the enduring creation of idea and tradition. Its is the living spirit of two centuries.

THE FIELD HOUSE—Once it was an airplane hangar surrounded by an acre or more of mud—now it is a modern gymnasium with offices of the Physical Education Department, lounges, and modern equipment for games. It has a beautiful hardwood floor and a cooling system that's a life-saver. It is the scene of sports tournaments and many a festive class dance.

The Athletics

The ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Everybody belongs to the Athletic Association. It is one of the few all-student organizations on the campus. The affairs of the Association ore administered through the Athletic Board which is made up of four officers, the four class representotives, and twelve councillors for the various sports. The purpose of the Association is to promote the health and recreation of students. Elouise Peck, Caroline Liles, Edwina Morgan, and Sara Harris represented the Alabama College Athletic Association at the meeting held in Auburn last Fall for the purpose of reorganizing the State Athletic Association. The annual meeting of the Association will be held at Alabama College in 1940-41.

This year the Association has bought new equipment for most of the sports, and last Spring it bought a nifty nickelodeon that we don't have to put a nickel in. The new equipment and nickelodeon created the need for two new councillors, one for Recreational Activities and one for Social Dancing. Caroline Liles conducts the activities and Margie McKemie the dancing.

VOLLEY

MARGARET DeBARDELEBEN, Councillor
"Maggie"

Only Maggie could have led the volley ball season to the enthusiastic ending that it had this year. With all her own energetic liveliness together with that of the other Phys-edders, she kept the crowds coming and the 4:30 practices clicking like clock-work.

Volley ball, the first sport of the season—under the faculty direction of Miss McCall—gives the Freshmen their first taste of sports at Alabama College and the Junior Physical Education majors their first taste of officiating. Practice got under way last fall in the middle of September and continued until the middle of October. The weather was unusually good so every day was a practice day.

Junior Team

BALL . . .

At the end of the season, the class tournament was held with class teams being selected from those enthusiasts who attended practice. The undefeated Seniors won the tournament in spite of the fact that Block Education interfered by preventing some Seniors from coming out for practice the full time. The Juniors were runners-up.

The first and second varsity teams were chosen after the tournament and played their game with the first Varsity winning. After this game, the teams and officials were entertained at a marshmallow roast back of the tennis courts and Eddie Watson presented picture show tickets to the Varsity teams and brought the season to a successful end.

HOCKEY

SARA HARRIS, Councillor
"Sleepy"

Do away with that one, two, three—one, two, three—bending to touch your toes to diminish your waistline and come out for sports instead, advises Sara Harris. A first varsity player and an all-round sport, "Sleepy" kept the Hockey season open this year in spite of the difficulties.

Let's have action—you two

Which way?

Hockey took the place of soccer as the winter sport this year, but it was not all we had hoped it would be. Few of the students know anything at all about the game because it is not taught in the high schools throughout the state, and in spite of all the cooxing and pepping up the numbers out for practice were too small to make up the required number of teams for a class tournament. Those who did play, however, were very enthusiastic and kept right on playing every afternoon. With the interest of these players to work on, hockey should become an increasingly popular sport as the years go on.

Recreational ACTIVITIES

CAROLINE LILES, Councillor
"Butch"

When it was decided to add recreational activities to the Physical Education Department, Butch was the logical one to take over. She's just the one to put every piece of equipment back into its proper niche and to see that it's all locked up. She's not only a systematic putter-upper, but she's a deft hand at ping-pong and badminton.

Caroline Liles, Councillor
"Butch"

Recreational Activities—it's too much for most of us to say at one time—but it's an awful lot of fun and the girls are not by themselves in enjoying ping-pong and badminton and other sports that don't require too much of that much-needed energy. Faculty members come in for their share too. The center for these activities will be the Fun Room in Tutwiler when everything is all finished, and the girls can hardly wait. Bowling has already become one of the favorite pastimes in the Fun Room and there'll be fun for all when the remainder of the equipment is put into place. There's nothing like a round of ping-pong or badminton to relax the muscles and make one feel fit and fine.

BASKET

Harriett Donohoo, Councillor
"Donny"

HARRIETTE DONAHOO, Councillor
"Donny"

"Donny" did a good job of commanding her cohorts in the basketball maneuverings this year. The interest manifested by her was enough to attract even the most lackadaisical. For three years she's been indispensable as a guard, and in her senior year she's chalked up another notch in her Basketball favor, as an A-1 councillor.

Here comes a hole-in-one, girls!

BALL . . .

Basketball is the only team sport for which practices are held in the Field House, and it's a good thing because now we don't have to worry about the weather. In basketball as in the other sports of the season, Black Education took its toll from the Senior line-up, but nevertheless, they came over the top in the class tournament. The Juniors had tough luck and even had to default one of their games.

The most exciting game of the whole year, of course, was the Gold-Purple game played on Saturday morning a week before College Night. Spirit ran high as the two closely matched teams entered the affray, but in spite of the brave fight put up by the Golds, the Purples won by a small margin.

After the annual varsity game, the teams had a party at the Field House where they consumed dozens of weiners and almost as many cases of Coca-Cola—a fitting end to a most successful Basketball season.

Let's have that ball, H. Y.!

BASE

MARY DENT MILLS, Councillor
"Dent"

Home Economics and baseball are definitely not related but Mary Dent has shown us that a major in one can handle the other remarkably well. At any place on the team she's one we're lucky to have on duty when the annual Faculty-Varsity game comes off.

Baseball—the most popular American sport—has many enthusiasts at Alabama College, both students and faculty. When spring comes to our campus bringing with it the urge to get outdoors and do something, baseball becames the foremost thought. So every afternoon last Spring—at least those when it didn't rain, and it rained a great deal during the season, much to everyone's disgust—the diamonds were filled with players aspiring to make the Varsity.

The really big game of the year was the Faculty-Varsity game. The Varsity won year before last so the Faculty were out to avenge themselves—which they did by the small margin of 7-6. It was the most exciting game played last year and it drew a large crowd. Until the last inning no one could be sure which ones would win.

It looked as if the class tournament would not be played due to the rain, but finally the weather cleared and all the games were played. The Sophomores won the tournament with the Freshmen coming in second.

TENNIS and

Anne Wills, Councillor
"Phoebe"

ANNE WILLS, Councillor
"Phoebe"

Anne has been the ideal person to manage the tennis activities for this year. She swings a wicked racquet and is master of any situation both on the court and off. Even the love game doesn't phase her and she definitely doesn't mind the "clay".

Tennis is the one sport on the campus in which the faculty participate as enthusiastically as the students. Almost any dry afternoon last spring all sixteen courts were filled with future champions.

Due to the inopportune rainy season last year, the regular tournament was not finished so we are not quite sure just who is our star player. On Sports Day, 1939, four players on the Birmingham-Southern tennis team gave exhibition matches which to the spectators were novel and entertaining as well as examples of star tennis-playing.

This spring two members of the Southern Lawn Tennis Association came to our campus for one day and conducted a tennis clinic. They gave lecture-demonstrations and taught several of the regular classes. They fired us with new desires to play better and better tennis.

More students are enrolled in tennis classes this spring than ever before and the tournament should prove very exciting.

BOBBY BRABSTON, Councillor
"Marjorie Ann"

Bobby's record of last year proved that her selection as swimming councillor was a fortunate one for all concerned. That's why we chose her again this year. She's a top-notcher in general athletic ability as well as in her spectacular aquatic accomplishments.

The swimming meet, which was held on Sports Day, 1939, was a huge success. The Sophomores, with Bobby Brabston as their shining light, won the meet. Mrs. Notestine was in charge of the swim meet last year and she, Mr. Notestine, and Miss Lindberg were judges. The following were high-point swimmers: Marjorie Brabston, first place; Sara Hollis, second place; Jean McKay, third place; Harriette Donahoo, fourth place.

HIKING and

Virginia Ingram, Councillor
"Ingram"

VIRGINIA INGRAM, Councillor
"Ingram"

"Over the hills and through the woods" to Mudd House we go,—to Davis Falls, the camp house, or almost anywhere for a good trip into the wilds of Nature. Miss Irvin often helps out the food supply with fruit and goodies from the kitchen, and there are always plenty of people anxious and eager to be up with the sun for a breakfast hike, or—if they like their morning sleep—to follow the sunset in the afternoon. We can nearly always find them ready and waiting to sally forth with cameras, butterfly-nets or what-not to explore Alabama—at least the center of it.

SARA HEWELL, Councillor
"Sarita"

Many are the times during the year when we get so tired and worn-out with classes, term papers, practice teaching, and exams that we want to get away from it all. Then's time to take our blankets, inveigle Miss Irvin out of some food, and go to Camp for the week-end.

This year it is more fun than ever to go to Camp because the camp house is all decked out in a bright and shining spring outfit—new curtains, new cushions, new paint for the dining room and kitchen, and loads of other improvements.

...ARCHERY...

SARA EVELYNE STUDDARD, Councillor
"Studdard"

Archery continues to be one of the most populor sports on the campus, and last summer interest was heightened by the visit of Howard Hill, internationally-known archer. He stepped down out of a Lucky Strike ad to give a demonstration on the front campus. This truly modern Robin Hood thrilled his spectators with amazing strength and accuracy.

Archers on our campus are getting better and better, and two college records were broken this year: Edna Moe Landrum shot a score of 119 from 40 yards and Mildred McDowell, a score af 158 from 30 yards—which gives future archers something pretty tough to break.

A team of eight people was entered in the Intercollegiate Telegraphic Archery Tournament ogoin this yeor. Our team placed thirty-ninth in the National Tournament with 125 colleges competing, and they placed second in the Southern District Tournoment.

On Sports Day a novelty shoot was conducted with the competitors shooting at caricotures of the European dictators. In the inter-class competition, sophomore, Dorothy Galloway, shot the highest score and juniar, Sara Hewell, the second.

The team entered in the Intercollegiate Telegraphic Archery Touranment: Dorothy Galloway, Juanita Morgan, Caroline Liles, Sara Hewell, Ruby Charles Jones, Mildred Hixon, Bobby Brabston, Helen Weaver.

TIPS for future housewives

When you have the 365-day-a-year job of pleasing some man with really good coffee, remember these things—

(1) Royal Cup Coffee goes further, tastes better, lasts longer

(2) Royal Cup Coffee is ground to suit your coffee-making method—percolator grind in the blue bag, drip grind in the red bag.

(3) Royal Cup Coffee is a BIG BARGAIN any day in the week.

You learned to like Royal Cup Coffee at Alabama College (they served it each day in the dining room). So ask your Grocer for it . . . at home.

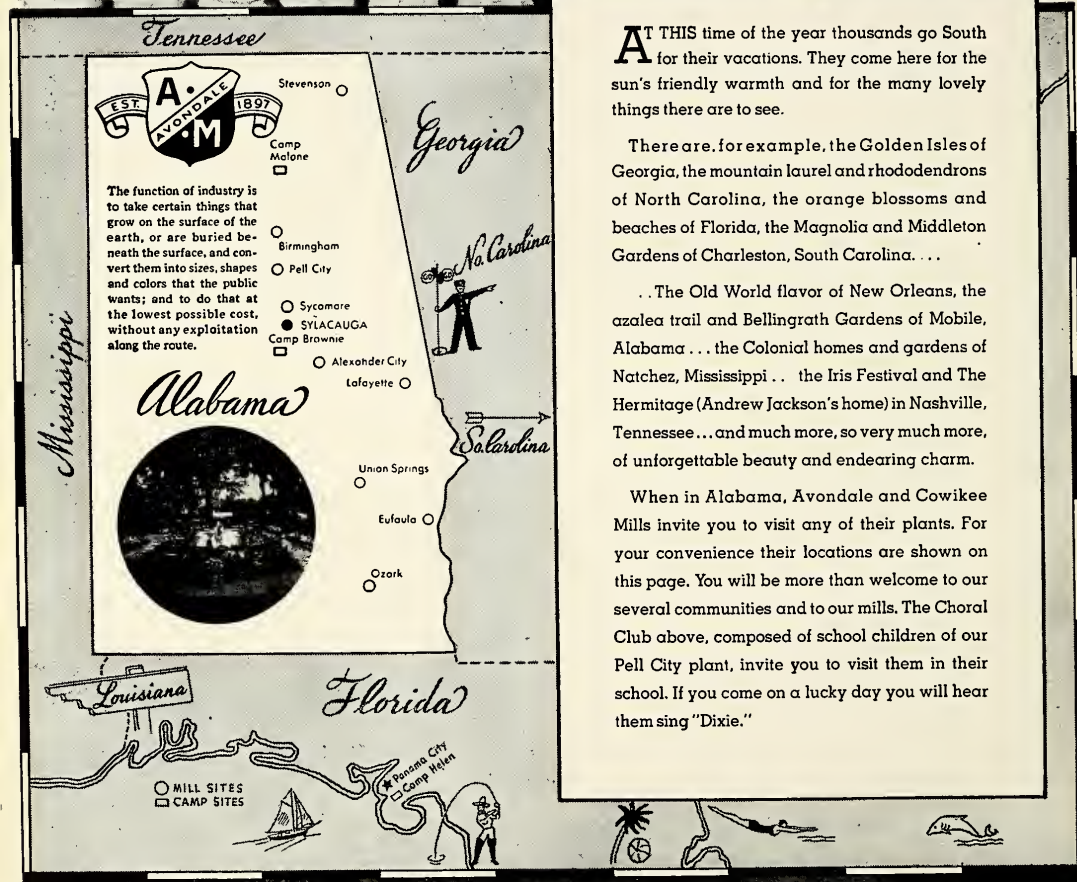
COME AWAY DOWN SOUTH IN DIXIE



AT THIS time of the year thousands go South for their vacations. They come here for the sun's friendly warmth and for the many lovely things there are to see.

There are, for example, the Golden Isles of Georgia, the mountain laurel and rhododendrons of North Carolina, the orange blossoms and beaches of Florida, the Magnolia and Middleton Gardens of Charleston, South Carolina. . . .

. . The Old World flavor of New Orleans, the azalea trail and Bellingrath Gardens of Mobile, Alabama . . . the Colonial homes and gardens of Natchez, Mississippi . . the Iris Festival and The Hermitage (Andrew Jackson's home) in Nashville, Tennessee . . . and much more, so very much more, of unforgettable beauty and endearing charm.

When in Alabama, Avondale and Cowikee Mills invite you to visit any of their plants. For your convenience their locations are shown on this page. You will be more than welcome to our several communities and to our mills. The Choral Club above, composed of school children of our Pell City plant, invite you to visit them in their school. If you come on a lucky day you will hear them sing "Dixie."
